

CRASIS Bachelor's Thesis Award

The CRASIS board invites submissions for the CRASIS Bachelor's Thesis Award 2021. A prize of € 500 is available for the best Bachelor's thesis written at the University of Groningen or the Protestant Theological University in Groningen and dealing with a research topic covered by CRASIS: ancient history, classical languages, archaeology, and ancient Judaism, Christianity, and Islam.

The deadline for submissions is 16 July, 2021. To be considered for the 2021 award theses should have been submitted between 17 July, 2020 and 16 July, 2021 and marked with at least an 8 (out of 10). Students who wish to be considered can either nominate themselves or be nominated by their supervisor.

Submissions should comprise:

- a digital, anonymised copy of the thesis
- a brief cover letter (max. one A4) which contains:
  - name of the author
  - the title of the thesis
  - a short summary of the thesis
  - a description of the context (department, programme, supervisor, etc.) in which the thesis was written
  - the final grade for the thesis

The thesis and cover letter should be sent as separate PDF attachments to the CRASIS secretary at crasis.aws@rug.nl. Assessments will take place on the basis of the anonymised thesis only. Enquiries can be addressed to the chair of the jury, Dr Barry Hartog, at p.b.hartog@pthu.nl.

The winner of the 2021 Thesis Award will be announced at the first Ancient World Seminar in the 2021–2022 academic year (21 September, 2021).

For more information on CRASIS see <https://www.rug.nl/research/centre-for-religious-studies/crasis/>.

The CRASIS board:

Bettina Reitz-Joosse
Evelien de Graaf
Bärry Hartog
Lidewijde de Jong
Susanne Luther
Jeremia Pelgrom